EXPECTED BENEFICIARY & IMPACT DATA FORM FOR NEW GRANTS

Please complete one form for each project for which you have been allocated funding from the Trust. Please complete a form for every project for which you have been allocated funding from the Trust. Only give data for beneficiaries whom you expect will be directly supported with funding from the Trust, and not beneficiaries in the project whom you might support through funding from other sources. Please submit all completed forms to the person in the Trust from whom you received this form, within 14 days of receipt of the grant allocation letter from the Trust

Please insert the grant reference number in the relevant section of the form. That will enable us to record the data in the correct project in our grantmaking system.

Amounts of money must be recorded in South African Rands (ZAR). The numbers of beneficiaries that you indicate in this form should be the 'target' number of beneficiaries that you intend, at the start of the project, to reach.

'Demographic' spread means the different beneficiaries by population group that the project reached, in terms of their general identities (e.g. racialisation, gender, age, sexual orientation, differential physical attributes, etc).

Sections B and C of this form, refer to 'intermediary' and 'ultimate' beneficiaries. 'Intermediary' and 'ultimate' beneficiaries may refer to slightly different groups depending on the type of project. In general, though, in this form 'intermediary' beneficiaries refers to any staff, interns, volunteers, or members of your organisation who will benefit in any way from the Trust's funding, and the people who directly receive support from the project (by receiving a food voucher or capacity development training, for example). 'Ultimate' beneficiaries refers to the broader group of people whose lives you expect will be positively impacted as a result of the direct support to 'intermediary' beneficiaries (e.g. the numbers of people in family households who will be fed through food bought with vouchers or the total number of people in organisations whose capacity will be increased as a result of one person from the organisation participating in a capacity development training programme). Alternatively, the 'intermediary' beneficiary might be a person who will be employed as a result of the project and the 'ultimate' beneficiaries might be the estimated total number of people in the person's family who will be supported as a result of their employment. Or the 'intermediary' beneficiaries might be the number of people in an organisation that will be set up through funding from the Trust to provide a service, and the 'ultimate' beneficiaries might be the number of people who will access the service. You can decide what makes sense for you in terms of who the 'intermediary' and 'ultimate' beneficiaries will be, as long as you are able to explain and justify your decision.

In section D of this form 'existing jobs supported' refers to the number of people who work in your organisation before the start of the project and who were previously paid from other sources of funding but who will now get paid with funding from the Trust (whether in part or in full), as a result of the Trust's funding of your project. 'New jobs created' refers to any new jobs that will be created as a result of the Trust's funding of the project, whether in your organisation to implement the project or through the success of the project creating more income or profit in your organisation or more economic opportunities in general, beyond your organisation. Please talk to the Trust's programme officer that you relate to if there is anything else that you want to ask about how to complete the form.
